CITY LOSES FIGHT TO RAILROAD FROM RIVERSIDE

Supreme Court Sustains New York Central in Its Refusal to Move.

APPEAL TO BE TAKEN

City Claims Title to the Property Through Early Legislative Grant.

DONNELLY DECIDES CASE

Says Only State, Which Gave Charter, Can Question Use Under Franchise.

The New York Central Railroad won yesterday the suit brought by the city of New York to oust it from the roadbed along Riverside Drive between Seventy-second Street and Spuyten Duyvil. Supreme Court Justice Donnelly held, as a matter of law, that the city is precluded from questioning the railroad's title to the land. The city will appeal from the decision.

Corporation Counsel O'Brien, acting for the city, claimed title to the land from early legislative grants. He contended that the city is entitled to immediate possession. Alexander Lyman, counsel for the railroad, argued that the railroad has title to the roadbed through a charter granted in 1847, and that the city is estopped from questioning title by reason of the railroad's undisputed possession for more than twenty years.

Justice Donnelly found that the Supreme Court had decided in earlier litigation that the railroad received its charter from the State and declared that only the State can question the right of the railroad corporation to exercise its corporate functions under the franchise granted.

Justice Donnelly said in his opinion: "I hold in this case that it is not necessary for the court to pass the title to the soil of the defendant's right of way in order to dispose of this proceeding. This because I hold that as a matter of law, the plaintiff is not entitled to immediate possession.

"In the case of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company (predecessor of the New York Central Railroad) against the City of New York, brought by reason of the city's effort to enforce a resolution of the Board of Estimate, to restrain the municipal authorities from removing the railroad company's tracks from the streets of the city, it was held that the Hudson River Railroad Company had received its charter from the State, and that when its terms had been complied with and the city had consented to the construction of the railroad in accordance with the charter, the city was estopped from questioning the title of the corporation to the land.

"The courts decided in this case in question that only the State can question the rights of a corporation exercising the same under a franchise granted by it.

"There can be no doubt that under the judgment entered in that case the city is not entitled to immediate possession of the defendant's right of way in the streets and avenues of the city of New York, but that the State, not the city, has authority to modify or repeal a charter granted by it.

"Therefore the motion of the defendant, in so far as it relates to the streets and avenues of the city of New York, must be granted.

"I hold as a matter of law that this plaintiff is estopped and precluded from maintaining this action, and I direct a verdict accordingly."

Mr. Lyman moved for a court ruling that the railroad has no possession of the land adverse to the city for more than twenty years; that the city was permanently enjoined from removing the tracks by reason of the prior litigation, and that the city "has looked on without objection" while the railroad has occupied the roadbed along Riverside Drive since 1847, and that the relief asked by the city in its present action would mean the abolition of the railroad's freight terminal facilities here. Justice Donnelly held that in view of his decisions it was not necessary to rule on these questions.

JUSTICE DUGRO GOT $175,598, NOT A MILLION

Accounting of Father's Trust Fund Is Completed.

The executors of the estate of Supreme Court Justice P. Henry Dugro accounted yesterday in the Surrogate's Court for his acts as trustee under the will of his father, Anthony Dugro, of a trust fund for the benefit of Jacob W. Dugro, his brother. Instead of having nearly $1,000,000, as alleged, Justice Dugro received only $175,598 principal and $7,392 of income from the trust fund. The accounting was forced by children of Jacob W. Dugro, who complained that no accounting had been filed for many years. Justice Dugro died while the accounting was pending, but the report of his executors shows that he paid out $175,598 principal and $7,392 of income, the fund being indebted to him for a small deficit.

FOREST DEATH IS SOLVED.

Watch in Tree Tells Fate of Michigan Hunter Lost in 1903.

SALT SPRING MARIE, Nov. 29.—Discovery of a note pinned in a tree to-day by Archie Davis of Flint, Mich., while he was hunting in the woods near Hultberg practically cleared up the mysterious disappearance of Arthur Kahler of Marquette, Mich., in 1903. The attention of Davis was attracted by flashes of light from a metal object. Investigation proved this to be a metal watch hanging from a tree, with the note inside, which read as follows: "I have been lost three days. I have shot three deer and placed the same note in every deer. ART KAHLER. Kahler had long since been given up for dead.

RAIL WAGE SYSTEM DECLARED UNSOUND

Federal Judge Anderson Says Same Scale Should Not Apply Throughout Country.

BOERON, Nov. 29.—Fundamental changes in the administration of the nation's railroads were urged to-day by Federal Judge George W. Anderson in an address at a conference called by the Joint New England Commission on Foreign and Domestic Commerce to take steps toward united action to induce the Interstate Commerce Commission to "save the railroads and industries from ruin" threatened by the alleged financial condition of the roads.

Judge Anderson denounced "the absurd scheme of paying the same scale of wages all over the country, regardless of living conditions and of the amount of work required, to all men holding a job carrying the same name." He urged that standard wages be abandoned "in the interests of the workingmen themselves," and characterized as absurd the labor union's proposal to obtain a standardization of working conditions.

"Labor must alter its policy in this matter," he said, "for the public must compel the Railroad Labor Board to alter it. It is a menace to the public interest."

Judge Anderson, who is a former member of the Interstate Commerce Commission and of the Massachusetts Public Service Commission, told the conference that "railroading has been unbusinesslike because of the fact that the railroads are the most elaborate and expensive and at the same time the most inadequate and generally the worst used in any great business in the world."

Judge Anderson said that although he was "not an advocate of general reduction of railroad wages or a return to the wicked exploitation of anti-bellum times," he was convinced that "the present system is unjust both to the railroad using public and because of general discrimination to wage earners themselves."

CITY TO RUN CARS ON STATEN ISLAND TO-DAY

Mayor Hylan to Inaugurate Service With Ceremony.

The old Staten Island Railroad Company will begin to operate cars to-morrow under municipal control. The reopening of the road will begin with a celebration in which Mayor John F. Hylan will have the principal part. The Mayor said that although he was "not an advocate of general reduction of railroad wages or a return to the wicked exploitation of anti-bellum times," he was convinced that "the present system is unjust both to the railroad using public and because of general discrimination to wage earners themselves."

According to an announcement made last night by the New York Milk Conference Board Edwin L. Garvin of the United States District Court has been selected as the neutral member of the commission to settle the wage question of the milk drivers. Of the seven members of the commission three represent the distributors and three have been named by the teamsters union. Judge Garvin was suggested by the union men. The commission will meet this week to attempt a settlement of the wage issue.

What Doctors do for their own sore throats

"I want to congratulate you, Doctor, on the great success I hear you are having with your throat cases. I myself have attacks of inflamed throat every winter, can't seem to get rid of them. Wish you would take a look at mine and tell me what to do."

"I guess, Doctor, I will have to introduce you to Formamint. Here's a real good throat antiseptic with which you will keep the soft tissues in an almost constant antiseptic bath, because you will find Formamint pleasant and convenient enough to use frequently. I find that the average patient will readily dissolve a Formamint tablet in his mouth every hour or so, and you know how hard it is to get them to use gargles or sprays consistently, even two or three times a day, especially children."

"Formamint tablets certainly relieve sore throats and are heading off a lot of tonsillitis for me, but I am even more interested in their prophylactic power, and so I am advising my patients to use them freely during the throat and influenza season to prevent infection."

COAL STRIKE FIELD UNDER MARTIAL LAW

Federal Troops Assume Control of Disorderly Region in Mingo County.

SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE NEW YORK HERALD. WILLIAMSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 29.—Mingo county is under military control, authority over the territory having been assumed yesterday upon the arrival of a battalion of Federal soldiers from Camp Sherman, Ohio.

The affairs of the county are being conducted through the civil officials, who act as an agency for the military authorities. So long as law can be enforced and order maintained under this process the rule will remain in force. It is distinctly understood, however, that the military forces are here with a set determination to pacify this turbulent center of trouble and will assume every authority necessary to accomplish that end.

Immediately upon arrival here Col. Herman Hall established headquarters in the county court house and undertook the task of distributing troops throughout the coal section of the county. Company headquarters were placed at Matewan, Williamson and Bordenland. The Matewan and Bordenland sectors have been the scenes of many disorders during the strike and call for a superior show of military force.

Thirty of the State Police, under Capt. Brockus, who have done efficient service will remain in the field and will cooperate with the military forces. In addition, a few picked deputy sheriffs will be retained in service.

No acts of violence have been recorded since the arrival of the troops. There is apparent an undervent of dissatisfaction on the part of the strike leaders, while among the others of the community there is a sensation of relief. This is apparent among the men at work who for months have toiled under the strain of constant assault and intimidation.

Mines that have been idle since July are making ready to start operation under the military protection that is afforded. Coal association officials also feel a sense of relief. Under their efforts more than forty of the forty-eight mines closed on July 1st have resumed operations. The output has grown steadily each month until the yield is now 85 per cent. of normal. Men on the pay rolls have increased from 107 in July to more than 1,700 in November. More than 1,400 of this number were originally strikers but have resumed work under nonunion conditions.

CORNELL STUDENTS MUST HONOR COEDS

Acting President Smith Rebukes Men for Hissing Women in Class.

GIRL ROOTERS OPEN FEUD

Appearance at Football Games Roused Resentment of Fraternity Boys.

SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE NEW YORK HERALD. ITHACA, Nov. 29.—Hissing of women students and an apparent disposition on the part of men students to make them feel ill at ease whenever they appeared at a public gathering around the campus caused A. W. Smith, acting president of Cornell University, to issue a statement to-day reminding the men that the co-eds must be respected. President Smith's action is a climax to an anti-feminism movement that was started when a handful of good looking young women from Sage College so much as dared to march in a "pee-rade" and later to go to New York to cheer the football players in the Dartmouth game.

The president's statement mentioned disloyalty to the name of the university, saying: "He who is disrespectful to the women students is disloyal to the founder's memory and to the good name of Cornell." What effect it will have is not known.

Men prominent in fraternity and college club circles looked askance at the appearance of the co-eds in the rooters' section of the Polo Grounds grandstand at the Dartmouth game. The worst had come! The social barriers were down! They had visions of women competing for managements of varsity teams and even looking for places in the varsity boat and on the track team. A lot of the prominent students had a couple of sleepless nights. Then last Thursday there was a public demonstration of their fears. They hired some college football mass meeting. They hired again when a picture of the women's dormitory was thrown on a screen at a motion picture theatre.

There was a demand that the co-eds be let out of the university annual. The men are said also to have agreed not to invite women students to their fraternity dances.

Cornell has been a co-ed institution since it was founded in 1827.
